Well, baseball season will be back soon. In fact, I believe the college teams are already practicing and perhaps have even played a few games. Now that's inspiring. I can't imagine playing baseball this time of year. The professionals usually do not begin until April 1st. Until then, they head to Florida or Arizona or some other warm place for them to enter into the time-honored tradition of spring training. At our house, we enter into the time-honored tradition of spring cleaning.

The church season of Lent is like spring training and spring cleaning! It is a time to train others in the faith and to renew our commitment to Christ and His church. It is a time to clean out the old junk in our soul, dust off our bibles, repent of our sins and prepare for the great celebration of Easter! We want to come to Easter Day with a rejuvenated hope, faith, and love! The season of Lent is about cleaning our hearts and training our spirits!

I look forward to journeying with you this Lenten season as we reflect daily on what our Lord Jesus Christ did for us! Let us embrace the new season before us! Let us prepare for the season ahead, a season for personal & spiritual renewal.

*Ash Wednesday is the kick-off for the season of Lent where the church will come together for the Imposition of Ashes service held on Wednesday evening February 18th at 7:00.

*Parents, keep a look out for this years Confirmation Classes. We will be sharing those dates and starting sign-ups very soon.

Spiritual Connection-Associate Pastor Thoughts

February is a month where we celebrate a time of love, then move into the more somber time of Lent. It is also a time of year where we seem to fall into that seasonal depression mindset. Our hearts, our minds, and our spirits get a little bit overwhelmed with emotion, and our bodies are tired of the cold, sickness and darkness that seem to surround us. We long for the time of rebirth, warmth, bright colors, and sounds of awakening to bring us back to joy.

But for now, we can encourage one another in support and care.

For Now, we concentrate on our amazing God, and the celebration that is to come on Easter Sunday.

For Now, we celebrate the Love God has for us, and that we have for Him.

For Now, we spend time in Christian service, ministry, and mission

For Now, we prepare our hearts for the time of Lent that is coming.

For Now, we lay down our burdens, sins, and sorrows and allow God to fully take over our hearts and dwell there.

For Now, we confess our sins and reflect on how we can change for the better.

For Now, we hold each other in prayer, because a cord of three or more strands cannot be broken.

For Now, we blow the dust off our Bibles, and we get into the Word.

For Now, we reach out to each other in love and need.

For Now, we dip into the ashes, we lament, and we wait.....

It's Friday now... But Sunday's Coming!

The Outreach Mission Statement

1 Peter 4:10-11

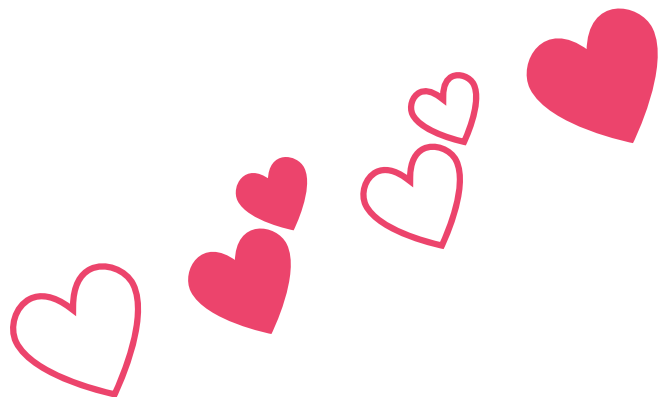

“Each of you should use whatever gift you have received to serve others, as faithful stewards of God’s grace in its various forms so that in all things God may be praised through Jesus Christ.”

There is a great opportunity this month to come and learn all about our Outreach Programs and Ministries. The Ministry Fair will be held on February 8th in the Fellowship Hall. Our volunteer leaders will be there with displays to discuss each of their special areas of outreach & ministry. If you are led to be involved in Outreach or would just like to find out what we do, please plan to attend.

We served our first Family Promise Meal of 2026 on January 18th and fed 73 family members staying in motels throughout Winchester. Thanks to all who donated, cooked, assembled, and delivered the meals.

For anyone interested in getting involved in the ministries in our church, please join us at our next meeting on Thursday, March 5th at 7p.m. in the lower cottage. Hope to see you there.

Faith and Health Corner

Caring for the Heart: Body, Mind, and Spirit

February is known for Valentine's cards and expressions of love, but it is also American Heart Month, a time to focus on caring for the heart in all the ways that truly matter. As a faith community, we are invited to reflect on how we can nurture not only our physical hearts, but also our emotional and spiritual well-being.

Heart disease remains the leading cause of death in the United States, affecting people of all ages and backgrounds. Many risk factors – such as high blood pressure, high cholesterol, inactivity, stress, and poor nutrition – can be improved through small, consistent lifestyle changes. February is a wonderful time to recommit to habits that support heart health: moving our bodies regularly, choosing heart-healthy foods, managing stress, and keeping up with preventive screenings.

But heart health is more than numbers on a blood pressure cuff. Scripture often speaks of the heart as the center of who we are – our thoughts, emotions, and faith.

Proverbs 4:23 reminds us, “Above all else, guard your heart, for everything you do flows from it.” When we care for our spiritual and emotional hearts, we strengthen our overall health and resilience.

Valentine's Day offers a beautiful reminder that love itself is healing. Acts of kindness, meaningful connections, forgiveness, and compassion can reduce stress and lift our spirits – benefitting both heart and mind. Reaching out to someone who is lonely, expressing gratitude, or spending time in prayer and reflection can be powerful ways to show love to others and to ourselves.

Faith and Health Corner Cont'd

As your faith community nurse, I encourage everyone this month to take a moment to “check in” with their heart:

- Physical heart: Know your blood pressure and cholesterol numbers, stay active in ways you enjoy, and choose foods that nourish your body.
- Emotional heart: Acknowledge stress, grief, or worry, and seek support when needed. You are not meant to carry burdens alone.
- Spiritual heart: Make time for prayer, scripture, worship, or quiet reflection – whatever helps you feel grounded and connected to God.

This February, let love be more than a symbol. Let it be a commitment – to healthier choices, deeper connections, and compassionate care for ourselves and others. By tending to our hearts in body, mind, and spirit, we honor the gift of life God has given us.

Together, we can build a healthier, heart-strong community.

As your parish nurse, I am here to support you in this season. Whether you have health questions, need help navigating a diagnosis, or simply want someone to pray with you, please feel free to reach out.

The Believers

World Cancer Day – United by Unique February 4, 2026

On World Cancer Day, we pause to honor the truth that while cancer touches many lives, no two cancer journeys are the same. Each diagnosis, treatment plan, response, fear, hope and victory is deeply personal.

Yet we are united – by compassion, by science, by advocacy, and by the shared commitment to reduce the burden of cancer for all. Being United by Unique reminds us that meaningful cancer care recognizes the whole person, not just the disease.

Today we stand with those living with cancer, survivors, caregivers, healthcare professionals, the researchers. By listening to individual stories and supporting equitable, person-centered care, we move closer to a future where every person receives the understanding, dignity, and treatment they deserve.

Together, we are stronger – united by our shared humanity, strengthened by our uniqueness.

“No one’s life path is the same, and no one’s struggle should be treated as if it were.”

Chorus Spotlight

Love divine, all loves excelling,
Joy of Heav'n to Earth come down,
Fix in us thy humble dwelling,
